

HOME HAPPENINGS

Canfield schools reopen Monday, Sept. 13.

Mrs. Lillian Fossnacht has had her South Broad street residence painted.

J. B. Hartman has the thanks of the Dispatch force for a basket of large, choice plums.

On account of the fair next week the Dispatch will not be issued until 11 o'clock Friday morning.

The Presbyterian Sunday school will picnic—Friday—on the Bowman reunion grounds near Hickory.

Mahoning county teachers here attending the institute give every evidence of enjoying their sojourn in the Hub.

Many long-distance automobile touring parties have passed through the village the past week. Coast to coast trips are popular this year.

It is a wise precaution not to leave valuables lying around loose while fairs are being held. The light-fingered gentry like easy picking.

A. W. Ricksecker of Youngstown was on Thursday elected president of the Mahoning County Teachers' Institute and Miss Alice Winter of Petersburg secretary.

The Girls' Club gave Miss Rubie Childrester, a bride-elect, a miscellaneous shower last Friday night at the home of Miss Ruth Duncan on South Broad street.

About seventy names are on the list of guarantors for Canfield's Chautauqua next year. That means that there will be no question about the success of the enterprise.

Canfield sends a crowd to the Southern park races every afternoon. The sport is reported fine. Many of the horses in the going will be seen at the races here next week.

The contract for rebuilding and widening the macadam road from the Morris drug store corner to the north border of the village will be let by the township trustees next Monday.

In keeping with the custom of many years the postoffice will be closed the two big days of the county fair, Wednesday and Thursday, between the hours of 9 a. m. and 4 p. m.

It is hardly necessary to mention the fact that the big county fair will be held in Canfield next week. Apparently everybody knows it and will be on hand to enjoy the great show provided for them.

Between printing a daily newspaper for the county teachers' institute, publishing a church paper, issuing the Dispatch and handling a large volume of job printing, the Dispatch office this week is a reasonably busy place.

More than two hundred people enjoyed the corn roast held in Tanner's grove on the Salem road last Friday night under the auspices of the Men's Class of the M. E. Church. There were loads of corn and it was served in many ways.

On account of the fair next week Wednesday and Thursday most of the village business houses will be closed between 9 a. m. and 4 p. m. This will give the merchants and their employees an opportunity to enjoy the fair. And there would be no business anyhow if they kept the stores open.

Mrs. Emily Shingfield sent to the Dispatch office the other day a double sunflower of unusual beauty. No matter in what way the flower was turned it appeared perfect. Mrs. Shingfield has a stalk on which quite a number of similar flowers are blooming. The double variety is rare and attracts much attention.

All roads were lined with automobiles last Sunday, apparently all machine owners in this neighborhood being on the move. Weather conditions had not been favorable on recent Sundays for automobile and the perfect Sunday called out everything that could be dignified by being called an automobile.

The W. C. T. U. and all other ladies of the village who are interested in the present campaign for state-wide prohibition are requested to meet in the M. E. Church Sunday, Sept. 5, at 3 p. m., eastern time. Attorney Perry Robinson of Youngstown will be present to outline and organize the activities of the campaign.

Robert, little son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Deits, who was run down and injured by an automobile on the Salem road on the morning of August 19, is still unconscious. At time his condition shows some improvement, the little fellow moving his hands and opening his mouth and then again for long periods he is inanimate. What the outcome of the case will be is problematical.

Josephine Belle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Harrington, aged one year, 10 months and 27 days, died unexpectedly last Saturday. The child had apparently been as well as usual only a few minutes before she became which was due to heart failure. Funeral services, held Monday afternoon from the M. E. Church, were conducted by Rev. J. V. Haskell. Interment was made in the village cemetery.

Superintendent Joseph Smith of Salem is receiving many compliments on the road leading from the northern border of Canfield to Lynn street, constructed under his direction. It is without doubt the finest macadam highway in this neighborhood. The road was thrown open for traffic last Saturday and traveling it is such a delight. The sides are now being graded and when completed presents a fine appearance.

Many of the holes and several long stretches in what is known as the state road leading from Lynn street to Cornersburg are being repaired under the direction of Joseph Smith of Salem, who has demonstrated that he knows the road-making business from A to Z. It is not unlikely that this road next year will be bricked from a point west of Cornersburg to what is known as the beech tree corner, the county commissioners, it is under stood, being favorable, that plan.

The residence of Ensign Stacy, 2 1/2 miles east of the village, was robbed last week Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Stacy was away from home for a few hours and when she returned soon discovered that the house had been thoroughly ransacked. Silverware and clothing valued at $40 were taken. It is thought the job was done by tramps who took advantage of the fact that the house is isolated and that the occupants were away to do the plundering. They made their getaway without being seen.

The front of the postoffice building has been painted.

The residence occupied by Chas. Credico is being painted.

A special communication of Argus Masonic lodge will be held this (Friday) evening when the F. C. degree will be conferred upon two candidates.

Leroy Metzler has purchased A. Huxsaw's confectionery and ice cream parlor and will take possession in October. Mr. Huxsaw and family will go to California.

Perry Robinson of Youngstown will meet with the W. C. T. U. in the M. E. Church Friday evening at 8 o'clock, eastern time. Let all members be present if possible.

The Girls' Club has placed in the Community Library the volume, "Through Five Republics on Horseback," by Dr. G. Whitefield Ray, who recently appeared here under the auspices of the Chautauqua.

Thousands of free tickets have been sent out to the school children of the county entitling them to admission to the Canfield fair next Wednesday. And our word for it, with favorable weather, the kiddies will be there in all their glory. They alone will furnish a sight at the fair worth going to see.

Miss Ruby Mae Childrester, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Childrester of this township, and Harry May, son of Mr. and Mrs. William May, of Austintown were united in marriage Tuesday evening at the home of the bride, about one hundred relatives and friends of the young people being present as witnesses. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Robert E. Pugh of Columbus, the beautiful ring service of the Presbyterian church being used. Following congratulations excellent refreshments were served. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and costly gifts. The young people have a host of friends who wish them well in their new relation. Their honeymoon will be spent motoring through the state, and upon their return will be at home in Austintown.

The Canfield football team has organized for the coming season and the boys expect to put a strong team on the gridiron. The following players are requested to report for practice Friday evening at the Union school lot at 7:30: Waters, Rice, F. Fossnacht, L. Fossnacht, Scott, Calvin, Chubb, H. Heintzelman, Renkenberger, H. Brown, D. Brown, Gebhart, L. Cox, M. Cox, Webb, Dickson, Jansenbacher, Grim, Powers, Lynn and Klyne.

Tickets for Boardman and Pleasant Grove will be distributed from these buildings by the principals.
